Recipes

BAKED APPLES A LA RUSSE

Cook together one cupful of sugar and one and one-half cupfuls of water for five minutes. Select six apples of regular size and rosy appearance; cut off a slice at one end of each apple and scoop out as much of the centre as possible, leaving deep cup-like shapes. Place the apples in the syrup and bake, covered closely, until tender, being careful that the apples do not become broken. Meanwhile cook the pulp of the apples with a portion of the syrup and two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice until soft enough to be rubbed through a sieve. To the smooth, velvety pulp add one-half cupful of red jelly and beat till well blended. Cool the apple-cases and fill with the mixture, then chill thoroughly and top with whipped cream. Serve with plain cream and the syrup in which the apples were baked as a sauce.

For every meal of the day there are delightful apple possibilities. Let us, then, make use of this delicious and healthful fruit with the freedom which it deserves.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES

- 1 quart of milk
- 2 teaspoonfuls salt
- 3-4 teaspoonfuls soda
- 1 yeast cake
- 1-4 cupful lukewarm water
- 1 cupful buttermilk
- 5 cupfuls buckwheat flour

Scald milk and cool to luke-warm; add yeast cake softened in the water, salt, and flour to make a rather thick batter. Beat well and let rise overnight. In the morning add the soda dissolved in the buttermilk. Bake on a hot, greased griddle and serve with butter and syrup.

Chauvin Mill Runs Daily This Month

In another column there appears an advertisement by the Chauvin District Milling Co., announcing that they are working every day this month. And being desirous of serving the public to the greatest extent possible, without incurring any unnecessary addition to cost of operation, they desire that all parties requiring grinding or milling should bring in their grain before the end of the month and avoid any disappointment. The mill will be closed at the end of the month until next harvest.

perfect apples may be used, as they are to be cored, pared and sliced. Slice six medium-sized apples and three bananas. Place the fruit in alternate layers in a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle each layer with one-fourth cupful of sugar and two tablespoonfuls of butter; pour one-half cupful of boiling water over the fruit, cover closely, and bake for one-half hour. Remove the cover and continue the baking for ten minutes longer. Serve with cream or with the juice that forms in the baking pan.

DO NOT use kerosene to clean furniture; it cuts the dirt but leaves moisture and forms a gum.

THE KING WITH THE GOLDEN TOUCH

King Midas of Thrace was a man who loved gold very much, but he was sorry when Bacchus gave him the power to get all the gold he wanted.

Bacchus, the Spirit of the Vine, came to Thrace in the form of a beautiful youth, to fill the people with wild joy and rapture. With him came a merry old man, whose name was Silenus. One day Silenus was found in the rose-gardens of King Midas, and the men brought him before the King. The King feasted him, and led him back to Bacchus; and Bacchus was pleased and said to Midas: "Ask what you will, and I will grant it."

Midas at once asked for power, to turn everything he touched into gold. This power Bacchus gave to him. At first Midas was delighted. Everything he laid a finger on, everything he brushed against, changed into gold. But when the water he tried to drink

But when the water he tried to drink and the food he tried to eat, turned into hard gold in his mouth, he sadly discovered that some of the commonest things on earth are worth far more than the most precious metals.

He returned to Bacchus, dying of hunger and thirst, and begged to be released from the magic power, and Bacchus showed him how to get rid of it by bathing in a certain river.

CAN YOU MAKE SENSE OF THIS

I saw a pigeon making bread;
I saw a girl composed of thread;
I saw a towel one mile square;
I saw a meadow in the air;
I saw a rocket walk a mile;
I saw a pony make a file;
I saw a blacksmith in a box;
I saw an orange kill an ox;
I saw a butcher made of steel;
I saw a penknife make a reel;
I saw a dilio twelve feet high;
I saw a ladder in a pie;
I saw an arrow fly away;
I saw a sparrow making hay;
I saw a farmer, with a dog;
I saw his daughter milking grog;
I saw three men who saw these two;
And will confirm what I tell you.
And the solution? This is it: Remove the semicolon at the end of the lines and place it after the first noun in each. Now it will read like sense!

HE KNEW

Johnny was sent to buy some oranges. The salesman, thinking to test his knowledge of division, when putting the oranges in a bag, said: "Now, Johnny" which would you rather have—three bags with two oranges in each, or two bags with three oranges in each?" "Three bags with two oranges in each," was the prompt reply. "Why?" asked the man. "One more bag to bust!" replied Johnny.

WHY NOT?

"Pa, why did you buy a golf-coat?" "To play golf in, of course." "Will you buy me a top-coat to play tops in, Pa?"

SHAKY!

Billie and Bertie were at a party, and, being away in a corner of the room at supper-time, they were not looked after very well.

They managed to get some jelly, and some bread-and-butter, but no spoons. "How shall we eat our jelly?" asked Billie. "Balance it on your bread-and-butter," said Bertie. "I tried that," replied Billie: "But it won't stay on. It's too nervous!" "If there were four flies on the table and I killed one, how many would be left?" inquired the teacher. "One," answered the bright little girl—"the dead one."

Schoolmaster: Now is there any question of any you would like to ask? Cock Robin: "Please sir, what's the time?"

Do you know how to make snow now? Take away the "s" and you have it now (s-now).

Can you tell me when a candle loses its temper? When it "flares up" of course.

Why is a lawyer like a beggar? Because he pleads for his living.

What is the difference between a wife and a pussy cat? One has a pause at the end of each clause and the other has claws at the end of its paws.

Why is the letter "s" a noisy letter? Because it makes cream (s-cream).

When is a thump on the back like a hat? When it is felt.

What bird is it that we have at every meal? The swallow, of course.

"I don't care," is a deadly snare.

Signs of Spring?

Mrs. Dunlop, of Edgerton, has a hen which hatched out nine chicks on February 5th. They are all living and doing fine. Pure bred Rose Comb R.I. Reds are the variety.

Two crows have been seen in the Prosperity district within the past few days. Our informant states that this may be regarded as a sign of early spring. At the same time it was evident that he was not greatly enthused with expectancy; and in passing the information to our readers, we may add we think the crows have erred in their judgement. But, again, these two crows may quite possibly know more about it than ourselves.

Chauvin High School

Notes

We were all very sorry to hear of the death of Harry Hefren's mother, and all our sympathy is with Harry in his sad loss and we all hope to see him back at school again soon.

The debate, which was to have taken place last Friday was postponed, because the two crows may quite possibly know more about it than ourselves.

The most of us have had a chance to find out whether ill health improves the character or not, yet the matter is still debatable.

We held a geography match last Friday, being captained. The match was only on one continent, North America, and we had some time finding enough Y's and X's to go round.

If Dunn knew how often it was put down in these matches as a town, it would hurry up and become one.

The most of us are back at school, none the worse for our having the flu.

ARTLAND ARGUS

The shipments of hay and oat-shaves from this point continues active, and so we are given to understanding, likely to be so for some little time yet.

We are also informed that the cars forwarded to date number some 100. Taking the average of $180 per car, we arrive at a very splendid total.

Such conditions are agreeable to note, but the picture has its reverse also, in as much as we must remember that the situation is based primarily, on the misfortunes of our friends somewhere to the south-west.

However, let us congratulate ourselves that this district possessed the power of relief.

It is pleasing to note that in the line of live stock, Artland has also within the last few weeks, been busy, three cars of cattle and one of horses going out as the result of a visit from Winnipeg buyers.

These movements must certainly involve banking transactions of one kind or another, and it is with regret that we note in as far as concerns facilities of that nature Artland is still handicapped by the difficulties encountered by our good friends the Merchants Bank, in satisfying all the calls of their numerous agencies and sub-agencies scattered over a vast extent of territory.

We trust however, to learn that they are in a position to extend increased attention in the direction of Artland.

Brady War Veterans Testimonial Fund

The Secretary of the above has lately received a very appreciative letter from the Town Clerk of Leeds, (the late P. Dickson's daughter) home) acknowledging the presentation watch on behalf of young Bickertide.

The latter also wrote an interesting letter of thanks to he subscribers of the fund.

We may also mention that a letter couched in similar terms was received from Mr. John Kitching, father of the late James Kitching.

The recording of the above, forms the closing act of a sad, but deeply interesting event in the history of Brady.

Stanmore Tennis Club To Hold Dance

A dance under the auspices of the Stanmore Tennis Club will be held at Stanmore School, Friday February 27th. Admission 50c. Good floor and good music. The platform has been removed so there will be lots of room.

Meetings Postponed

Owing to the trustees having vetoed the use of Brady School, due to the presence of La Grippe in the neighbourhood we shall be denied the pleasure of hearing Mr. Lawson on Wednesday 25th, as also shall we have to forego our monthly meeting, which we were to combine with a social on Friday 27th. The Secretary deplores the state of things, having in mind the effect of the "flu" on our activities last year. We shall, however (D.V.) resume operations in the near future, of which I will let you have timely notice.
